SIX PERSONS MURDERED. An entire family of six persons were murdered and the bodies of all but one of the victims were burned with their home at Hurley, Buchanan county, Va., early yesterday. The motive was evidently robbery, as the owner of the house, an aged woman known as "Aunt Betty" Justis, was supposed to keep a large sum of money about the place.

Mrs. Justis, her son-in-law, George Meadows, his wife and three children were the victims. Meadows' body, badly mutilated, was found yesterday morning lying in the yard of his destroy-ed home, the funeral pyre of his loved ones. Two bullet holes and a wound in the neck, which almost severed the head from the body, gave the discovertrage dy. A search of the ruins of the house disclosed an awful spectacle. The blackened masses of half-burned fiesh and charred bones of the two women and the three children were found beneath the debris, each body bearing evidences of murder, committed before the house was destroyed by fire, evidently for the purpose of hiding the crime. The elder woman's skull was found some distance from the remainder of her half-burned body amid the smoldering ing ruins.

Another daughter of Mrs. Justia told the police that her mother had a large sum of money buried under the sill of the bouse, and they succeeded in digging up $950 in gold and silver. The murderers are supposed to have secured the $600 which "Aunt Betty" always carried on her person.

Bloodhounds were rushed to the scenes, and in a short time they took up the trail of the supposed murderers in a cornfield which joined the Justis home. There the footprints of three men were

A FINDER OF MONEY.

Harry Bohrer, who is the manager of the Hanover lunch rooms in New York, has developed the habit of finding money. Some weeks ago a bank messenger dropped into his place and went away without taking a package containing about $6,000. Bohrer found it and restored it to its rightful owner. That was a starter.

Tuesday a young man dropped in and bad lunch. After he had gone, Bohrer saw lying on the table where the young man sat a wallet. A package of currency in the wailet alone amounted to $23,000 and there were notes and checks that made up a total of at least $50,000. Bohrer gathered that most of the notes had come from the State Bank, at 52

Norfolk street. Bohrer couldn't wait. He was afraid to keep so much money about the lunchand as fast as he could go, he went to the bank.

It was the bank's money all right, and he turned it over to the cashier. The bank rewarded him with a bill. When Bohrer got back to the lunchroom a messenger boy was there almost frantic. Bohrer told him that it was all right, and that he had returned the oney to the bank. A triend of Bobrer's said his reward or returning the money was $10.
